

Overview

The Mirocom Broadband Engine (M/BE) is a high-throughput distributed System-on-Chip architecture aimed at being ideal for constructing flexible supercomputer configurations. M/BE takes inspiration from the Cell B/E architecture while implementing it such that it differs significantly for modern day computing.

Revision #1

Created 2026-05-16 02:54:56 UTC by Chloe

Updated 2026-05-16 02:57:26 UTC by Chloe